Library News

Upcoming Events This Week:
Tuesday, May 21 at 11 AM Senior Life Solutions, Mental Health Awareness Month with Shelly Schafer, LMHC
Wednesday, May 22, at 6 PM Cooper Dall, World War II Collection Exhibit.
Cashton Dall is a 6th grader at DNH. In addition to the types of things most kids are interested in, he is enthusiastic about military history and World War II. He is an avid collector of WWII artifacts. Cashton's great-great uncle, longtime Dike resident Peter Badje, was awarded a Purple Heart and some of the items in Cashton's collection belonged to him. Cashton is the son of Doug Dall and Kimber Dall.

Recently, his teacher had him give a presentation to all the 6th graders with his collection. Cashton and many other DNH students his age share an interest in military history and enjoy discussing it. At the library, we have increased our orders of military history books for youth over the last 2 years as a result.

On Wednesday, May 22, at 6 PM, Cashton will be giving a presentation at the Dike Public Library, sharing his collection and information about the different items.

This event is a great opportunity to bridge the generations with common interests. Old, young, veterans and civilians – we look forward to the opportunity for our community members to share information, make connections and enjoy their common interest. Please join us for the presentation, coffee, light snacks and conversation!

Council News

City council meeting on May 8th started at 7:00pm with Mayor Sadie Six calling meeting to order. Nathan Schmitz was first on the agenda with a report from the Dike Fire Department. He acknowledged a 50 year fire department member David Stage. EMS calls are now received from 5 departments. Following City regulations, the minutes of all department meetings will be emailed to the City office. City council and fire department working together for the betterment of the City and Fire Department.

A resolution for approving Deahonne Weissenfluh for cleaning position for the Dike Library.

Council received some pool updates and they received repair quotes but the council is requesting an itemized breakdown of the prices on gutters, filters, concert and other items.

Stop signs will appear at two locations Church and North and Church and Elder. Repair work will start on the north trail.

Marty reported on the work done during the month and requested approval to hire a parttime summer mowing person. Marty Camarata informed the Mayor and Council of his decision to take a new position and resign for his current position with the city sometime in June.

Graduation

It is the time of year for parties. Graduation time is here, the invitation have been mailed and reception halls reserved and Moms and Dads can't believe their little baby is ready to graduate. During Sunday services many students were honored in their local churches. Mark your calendar for Wednesday May 15 for Baccalaureate service at 7:00pm at the United Methodist Church in Dike. Everyone welcome.

Schmitt honored as 'Best of the Class'

CEDAR FALLS – Blane Schmitt from Dike/New Hartford High School was honored as a member of the 2024 Best of the Class. KWWL and the University of Northern Iowa recognized valedictorians or top graduating seniors from across eastern Iowa at a celebration on Saturday, April 27th at the McLeod Center on the UNI campus.

KWWL Vice President and General Manager John Huff noted “KWWL is proud to be associated with an event that shines a light on these outstanding students, their families, and schools.” Best of the Class students had the opportunity to be photographed with KWWL news anchors Ron Steele and Elizabeth Klinge, Luke Burdsall, Chief Meteorologist Mark Schnackenberg, and Sports Director Rick Coleman. Additionally, the students were recorded for a series of promotional announcements that will air on KWWL, and will also be available for viewing at KWWL.com.

In its 40 years of recognizing academic excellence, KWWL's Best of the Class has honored over 4800 hundred top graduating seniors. Best of the Class is a joint public service/ community relations effort that encourages academic excellence among high school students by recognizing students who serve as role models in their communities.
