Iowa PBS now offering livestream of its Create and World channels

Iowa PBS fans have been asking for more ways to stream their favorite shows, and now they can! The national schedules on Iowa PBS's subchannels Create and WORLD are now livestreaming on iowapbs.org/live, pbs.org/livestream, and the PBS app.

Iowa PBS's simultaneous broadcast streaming service brings viewers more ways to watch engaging and inspiring content regardless of antenna, cable or satellite connection. Livestreaming Iowa PBS's lineup does not require a PBS membership and is available to those streaming within the state of Iowa.

"Iowa PBS is excited to further expand our digital streaming service to Iowans," said Iowa PBS Executive Director and General Manager Andrew Batt. "These live streaming channels focused on history and culture will further educate, inform, enrich and inspire all Iowans, no matter how they prefer to watch."

Livestreaming appeals to those viewers wanting a true channel experience and cord-cutters who are looking for another way to enjoy the great content they love from PBS. Increasingly, viewers are wanting the "block experience" where they can begin watching one program that flows into another similar-themed type of content making for a more seamless and educated viewing experience.

In addition to its statewide broadcast, Iowa PBS .1 is available to livestream on iowapbs.org/watch, pbs.org/livestream, the PBS app, Local Now, YouTube TV and Hulu + Live TV. Iowa PBS programs, behind-the-scenes extras and more can be enjoyed on iowapbs.org, Facebook and YouTube. Viewers can also stream their favorite shows on demand using the PBS app, available on iOS, Android and many streaming devices.

Black Hawk County to begin spraying county roadsides

Black Hawk County, IOWA – The Black Hawk County Road Department will begin roadside spraying May 1, as part of the county's Integrated Roadside Vegetation Management (IRVM) weed control program. Spraying will continue through the first frost in the fall.

As part of the IRVM program, the county is divided into two halves. The attached map highlights in blue the county roads where spraying was completed in 2024. This year, efforts will primarily focus on the north half of Black Hawk County, specifically north of Interstate 20, working from west to east.

The IRVM program is designed to control noxious weeds and manage invasive trees and brush within the county's Right-of-Way (ROW). The herbicides used for weed control include Vastlan, Milestone, Arsenal, and Escort XP. Landowners adjacent to the ROW, who prefer to opt out of roadside spraying, may apply for a No-Spray Permit on the Black Hawk County website (link below).

Why Roadside Vegetation Management Matters Through responsible roadside management, Black Hawk County aims to maintain safe, healthy, and functional roadsides. The strategic use of herbicides helps control problematic weeds while promoting the benefits of healthy vegetation, which include:

- Enhancing rainfall infiltration
- Reducing runoff and erosion
- Trapping sediment
- Providing a habitat for pollinators, nesting birds, and other wildlife

Monthly spraying updates will be posted on the BHC Road Department Facebook page, and those signed up for Road Updates will also receive notifications directly. To sign up for spraying updates, learn more about the IRVM program, or request a No Spray permit, visit <https://blackhawkcounty.iowa.gov/214/Road-Department> or contact the Road Department at (319) 833-3008 during regular business hours.
