Opinion Bill will hold China accountable for evading U.S. trade laws

By Rep. Ashley Hinson

Last week I reintroduced my bipartisan, bicameral Protecting American Industry and Labor from International Trade

Crimes Act. This bill will finally hold China accountable for decades of trade laws

transshipment, duty evasion and forced labor.

The CCP's illicit trade practices are deliberately designed to take advantage of American workers and domestic industry — undercutting American wages and gutting rural manufacturing meeting with officers towns that once thrived with good-paying jobs.

Despite the sheer volume of trade crimerelated cases, the Department of Justice remains inadequately equipped to detect, investigate and prosecute such offenses effectively.

Tariffs are a powerful tool in our arsenal, but they must be backed by strong enforcement of our trade laws to stop China from ripping us off.

This legislation will support the Trump administration's efforts to stop these blatant violations and ensure penalties are meaningfully enforced. American workers have felt pain for decades because of Communist China's malfeasance. Now it's time for Communist China to feel some pain.

The message from the Trump administration is clear: the days of taking over, and the golden age of American manufacturing is coming back.

This is a bipartisan opportunity to support American industry. reshore domestic manufacturing and champion American workers and I hope we can deliver on this for all Iowans and Americans

I loved visiting Grandma Jane's Playhouse. It's such a joy to see kids just being kids — learning, making new friends and building valuable social skills.

I'm so thankful to their dedicated team for making this possible and providing a variety of educational opportunities for Iowa families.

It was a pleasure from five different police departments to discuss public safety concerns in Tama County.

Ensuring our law enforcement officers have the tools to do their job will always be a priority for me, and I appreciate their sacrifice and service to our community.

I had a great meeting with the owner of Benton County Brewing Company — which he bought with his family after previously serving overseas in Iraq. I appreciated the tour, and I can't wait to make it back and try some local brews.

We also discussed the importance of building the local workforce and keeping small business tax cuts permanent. I'll always continue advocating for Iowa businesses just like his.

I had a valuable discussion with the Livestock Marketing As-advantage of the U.S. are sociation about ways to continue advocating for Iowa's livestock farmers. I remain committed to reversing the harmful effects of regulatory bar- to meet with the Iowa riers on Iowa farmers and supporting our rural communities!

It was also wonderful

Association of Councils of Governments. Local leaders play a key role in strengthening our communities, and I'm thankful for their partnership as we work toward shared goals and deliver for Iowans.

BROOKLYN THEATRE HISTORICAL PLAY

Josh Gerard, the Brooklyn Librarian, pastor of the New Beginnings Church and local playwright, is putting the finishing touches on a community play, "175 Years of Brooklyn," about the town's 175-year history.

The play will be performed June 13, 14 and 15 at the Brooklyn Opera House.

Using a large local cast, the play will center around such historical lane of I-80, the report says.

A passenger, Gladys Reyes, 33, the driver's and was transported via ambulance to Compass Memorial Hospital, the report says. Fernadez Hidalgo rode in the ambulance with his wife.

BJ's towing pulled the power unit, owned by Penske Truck Leasing & Rental Co. of Reading, Pennsylvania, off the roadway at the request of law enforcement.

The trailer was left in the ditch for removal by the owner.

happenings as the town stoplight controversy, downtown fires, the railroad, John Wayne and Christian Schone, a Brooklyn blacksmith who is credited with the invention of barbwire using horseshoe nails and twisted wires.

Play auditions are March 25 and 27 at the opera house at 7 p.m. There are plenty of parts, and all ages six and up are welcome to try out.

"If you're gonna audition for one play this year that's about the history of Brooklyn retold in a comedic fashion, make it this one," noted Gerard.

More information about the Brooklyn celebration and Flag Festival events will be released as plans are finalized.

In 2018, the county established an urban renewal area and plan utilizing tax increment financing (TIF) for improvements to the rural road system in the county. The road projects outlined by the engineer are in dollar figures, which the county can no longer fund using internal loans. Now, the county needs to look at bonding and utilizing the TIF dollars collected to repay that debt. Maloney & Stevenson provided different options for bonding and the process the county would need to undergo. Brehm provided information on the projects he has information on the projects he has outlined for the next five years. Board will review the urban renewal plan and may need to discuss with their TIF attorney a possible amendment to the plan to include the new five-year projected projects.
